METHODOLOGIES

Process Consulting: Andrea listens and asks incisive questions when working with clients to understand a client's specific context, co-create solutions, and reflect on learning to illuminate wisdom for transformation and posterity.

Somatic Leadership Coaching: Andrea uses visualization and mind-body techniques to help leaders be more present and grounded. These skills foster focused problem-solving and confident decision-making.

SUCCESSFUL RECORD

Coaching with Andrea has been the mental, physical, and emotional support I didn't realize I needed so badly. She has helped me explore other ways of "knowing" that push beyond intellect into intuition. Since having her as a coach, I am more attuned to my body and much more aware of the way it guides me. Andrea is highly skilled at facilitating guided meditation. Equally impressive is her ability to add insight, pose reflective questions, and listen deeply. My sessions with Andrea have become an essential part of my commitment to self-care. I am finally able to say with confidence and clarity: I am healing. "
